MERCHANDISE SEIZED — Washington C.H. police officers seized thousands of dollars worth of merchandise which was believed by them to be stolen during area burglaries. The items, being stored above police headquarters, were seized at 706 W. Market Street where four subjects were arrested in connection with three area burglaries.

Large burglary ring cracked

A variety of felony charges have been lodged against five suspects arrested here Thursday in connection with one of the largest burglary rings ever cracked by Washington C.H. police officers.

Washington C.H. police officers said the arrests of the five suspects apparently solved at least three area burglaries, including a break-in at the Revco Discount Drug Center in the Washington Square Shopping Center where a large quantity of narcotics were taken early Thursday.

CHARGED BY Washington C.H. police officers were:

Richard W. Stern, 25, of 706 W. Market St., burglary, two counts of possession of stolen property, and permitting the prohibited use of a dwelling;

Russell W. Hidy, 23, of 706 W. Market St., burglary, possession of property, theft of a narcotic drug, possession of narcotics, possession of amphetamines, possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe and possession of an hallucinogen;

Danny Lee Lininger, 22, Rt. 4, Washington C.H., possession of narcotics, possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe, theft of a narcotic drug, possession of amphetamines, possession of an hallucinogen, burglary and two counts of possession of stolen property;

Stanley E. East Jr., 22, of 706 W. Market St., possession of an hallucinogen for sale; and Denise C. Graham, 24, of 706 W. Market St., possession of an hallucinogen.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department has also lodged additional charges of burglary against Lininger and Hidy in connection with a breaking and entering incident late Wednesday at the Fenton-Oliver Sales and Service Store, Ohio 38-N.

East, Lininger and Ms. Graham are being held in the Fayette County jail, while Hidy and Stern are lodged in the city jail. The five defendants were scheduled to appear before acting Judge Otis R. Hess Jr. in Washington C.H. Municipal Court Friday. Bonds will be set during the initial appearances.

Police officers, assisted by deputies from the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, recovered thousands of dollars worth of items believed to be stolen in area burglaries at the W. Market Street residence Thursday.

Police Chief Rodman Scott said the case was perhaps the largest burglary ring ever cracked by Washington C.H. police officers, both in terms of the amount of reported stolen merchandise and the value of the items.

Thousands of dollars worth of drugs, apparently stolen during the burglary at the Revco Discount Drug Center, were recovered at the one-story frame home. Barbituates, amphetamines, morphine, librium, codeine and a number of other drugs were recovered. Police also seized eight plastic bags filled with marijuana and other drug-related paraphernalia.

Most of the reported stolen items were recovered in various rooms throughout the W. Market Street residence, but some were seized during the searches conducted on vehicles parked outside the home.

Power chain saws and other tools apparently stolen during a burglary Jan. 22 at the Wright Lumber Co. in Williamsport were recovered in addition to expensive tools, a calculator and assorted coins reportedly taken in

Six-month battle apparently ended

Contempt case appeal dismissed by court

The Record-Herald is hoping that a decision rendered Friday by the Second District Court of Appeals has finally ended its six-month battle to preserve the right of the media to air the proceedings of a public trial.

The court's unanimous decision dismissed an appeal filed by Washington C.H. attorney Robert L. Brubaker on behalf of Judge Evelyn W. Coffman, which sought to overturn the Common Pleas Court's exoneration of Edward Summers, a reporter charged with contempt of court.

Summers was charged in July with contempt of court for filing with the Record-Herald a story containing information which Judge Coffman had ordered withheld from publication. The story was printed in its entirety the following day, and the judge declared a mistrial on the grounds that the publication might have influenced the jurors. Summers was later cited for contempt.

Gwynn Sanders, Union County Common Pleas Court judge, heard the case in Fayette County Aug. 9, and returned an acquittal verdict shortly thereafter. He had heard the case because Judge Coffman had been an interested party for the prosecution. She was called to testify at the trial, and there admitted that she had never told members of the jury not to read the reports of the trial but only to ignore the information contained within them. A poll of jurors prior to the declaration of mistrial revealed that they would not be influenced by what they had read, but the case was halted anyway.

Following the acquittal in the lower court, Brubaker filed an appeal in the district court. He sought to have the appeals court rule that the violation alleged by Judge Coffman was in fact contempt. Although Summers could not be jailed or fined if such a ruling were rendered, it would have established precedent for future trials.

A motion by attorneys Otis R. Hess and Daniel W. Drake, representing the Record-Herald, asked that the appeal be dismissed for lack of merit, and Friday's decision upheld their argument.

In a three-page opinion, the Second District Court of Appeals said "We perceive no valid reason to prolong this controversy. It is fundamental that the State of Ohio cannot appeal a judgement upon the merits in a criminal case."

The decision was written by Judge Joseph D. Kerns. Presiding Judge Calvin Crawford and Judge Paul M. Sherer concurred with the decision.

Record-Herald editor Mike Flynn said he was pleased the appeals court had finally ruled on the matter and hoped that their decision would terminate the case. "I am happy that the court ruled as it did. The right of the press to view and report court proceedings is a precious constitutional right."

"These decisions affirm that right, and I hope we can again concentrate on the business of reporting trial proceedings rather than participating in them," the editor concluded.

Judge issues ruling on Nixon documents

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge ruled today that millions of documents and the White House tapes accumulated during the presidency of Richard M. Nixon belong to the government.

The decision nullifies a Sept. 7, 1974, agreement under which Nixon was to have partial access and control of his papers.

"There is no precedent which compels the finding that the 'presidential materials and tapes' are the personal property of former President Nixon," U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey said in a detailed opinion.

At issue are an estimated 42 million documents and 2½ years of tape recordings generated by the Nixon White House.

The judge did, however, set out an elaborate procedure for Nixon to attempt to recover items or tapes which he might claim to be private or personal.

Richey's decision, while keeping the Nixon documents in the possession of the government, also declared them out of bounds for unlimited public access.

Richey said that, while materials and tape recordings generated by most federal departments are subject to the Freedom of Information Act, the Nixon papers and tapes are not.

The Freedom of Information Act establishes specific means for members of the public to obtain government records.

The original agreement for disposition of the records of the Nixon era called for them to be stored in a facility near the former president's estate in San Clemente, Calif.

Two keys — one kept by the General Services Administration, the government's landlord, and one by Nixon — were to be required for access.

After Nixon resigned Aug. 9, 1974, then-Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski objected to the agreement between Nixon and the Ford administration.

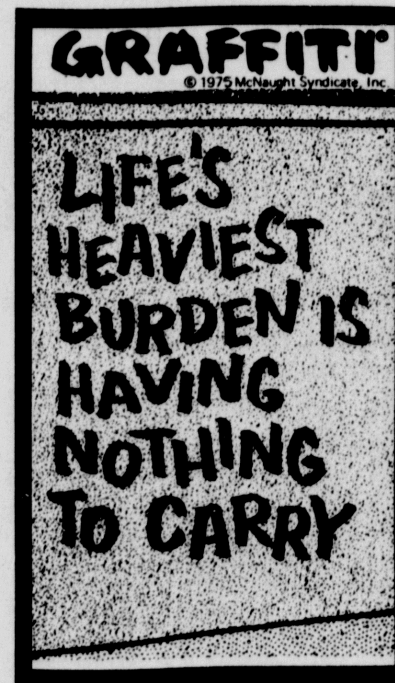

Jaworski said he feared there would be insufficient access to Nixon's papers, needed for various prosecutions which continue today.

White House Counsel Philip Buchen subsequently agreed to give the special prosecutor's office temporary veto power over movement of any papers or tapes to San Clemente.

Rhodes eyes bond issue for cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes will seek additional state revenue through a bond issue on the June ballot to "tackle head-on the problem of cleaning up the downtown areas of Ohio's major cities."

"Our whole program is for the cities of Ohio," Rhodes said in his first scheduled news conference since taking office Jan. 13.

The governor declined to specify how much money he would ask voters to appropriate while the issue is under study. He said he wanted to be certain "what we present is constitutional" and has legislative approval.

Rhodes said his office had contacted "most of the major cities in the state to try to determine priorities."

In his inaugural speech, Rhodes proposed an Ohio Central Business District Development Authority to help rebuild the cities with funding through the Impacted Cities Act and the state's bonding power "at no direct cost to the taxpayers."

Rhodes said cutbacks were continuing in state agencies in an effort to avoid duplication without downgrading services.

"We believe in a centralized control of government and also a check and balance of government," he said. "We don't have that presently."

The governor indicated he was hoping for amendments in the state Senate to a Housepassed $91.3 million appropriation to Ohio school districts. Rhodes proposed that the money should be earmarked for teachers' salaries.

One person dead, several missing

Oil tankers collide, explode

MARCUS HOOK, Pa. (AP) — Two large oil tankers collided at a British Petroleum refinery dock on the Delaware River early today, setting off a series of explosions and a spectacular fire. One person was killed and 23 others were injured, officials said.

An undetermined number of the 70 or so crewmen aboard the two ships were unaccounted for, according to authorities at the scene. Police first estimated the number missing at 17 to 23.

About 15 firemen were overcome by gas fumes while fighting the blaze aboard the Liberian supertanker Corinthus. The firemen and injured crewmen were taken to three area hospitals.

State police evacuated a sixblock area in this industrial town of 3,500 after the series of three blasts, which shook buildings for 10 blocks around. Flames were seen in as far as 30 miles away.

The three explosions followed the collision about 12:30 a.m. between the Corinthus, which was docked at the BP pier about 10 miles south of Philadelphia, and the American tanker Edgar M. Queeny.

The supertanker, which had been unloading its 100,000 barrels of fuel since Thursday afternoon, was struck broadside by the bow of the Queeny. The 30,000-ton Queeny was attempting to dock at the 600-by-300 foot pier, police and fire officials said.

The Corinthus and the dock were swept by the fire, but the ship remained afloat. The Coast Guard said the stern of the ship was aground.

A large warehouse containing thousands of tons of petroleum products and a tank farm were within 200 feet of the blaze but were not damaged.

The Queeny caught fire but the captain maneuvered the ship back into the river, and the blaze was extinguished about 3 a.m.

An oil spill resulted from the collision, but the amount of oil leaking into the river could not be determined. The Coast Guard said a pollution strike team was standing by.

Patrolman George McClure, one of the first officers on the scene, said the Corinthus was engulfed by a ball of flame and "whoever was left on that ship was done for, you could see that."

"It was the inside of hell," said Patrolman George Hansell. "I saw an arm and other guys said they saw parts of bodies" floating in the water.

McClure said the Corinthus was turned on its side but the fire was brought under control about 3 a.m. The Queeny was towed out into the river and continued to burn in the front section.

a breaking and entering incident late Wednesday at Fenton-Oliver Sales and Service.

Police officers also seized as evidence hundreds of other items including two guns, sporting equipment, expensive electronic equipment including stereos, speaker units, tape systems, headphones and eight-track tapes.

Four of the subjects were arrested at the W. Market Street residence, while East was arrested by Patrolman Larry Mongold assisted by Sheriff's Deputy Larry Camp at 3 p.m. Thursday at the Melvin Stone Co., in Clinton County, where he is employed.

Police officers obtained a search warrant early Thursday through acting Municipal Court Judge Omar Schwart to enter the residence, and later obtained additional warrants from acting Judge Hess to search the five vehicles on the property. John H. Roszmann, assistant Fayette County prosecuting attorney, assisted officers on the scene with the searches.

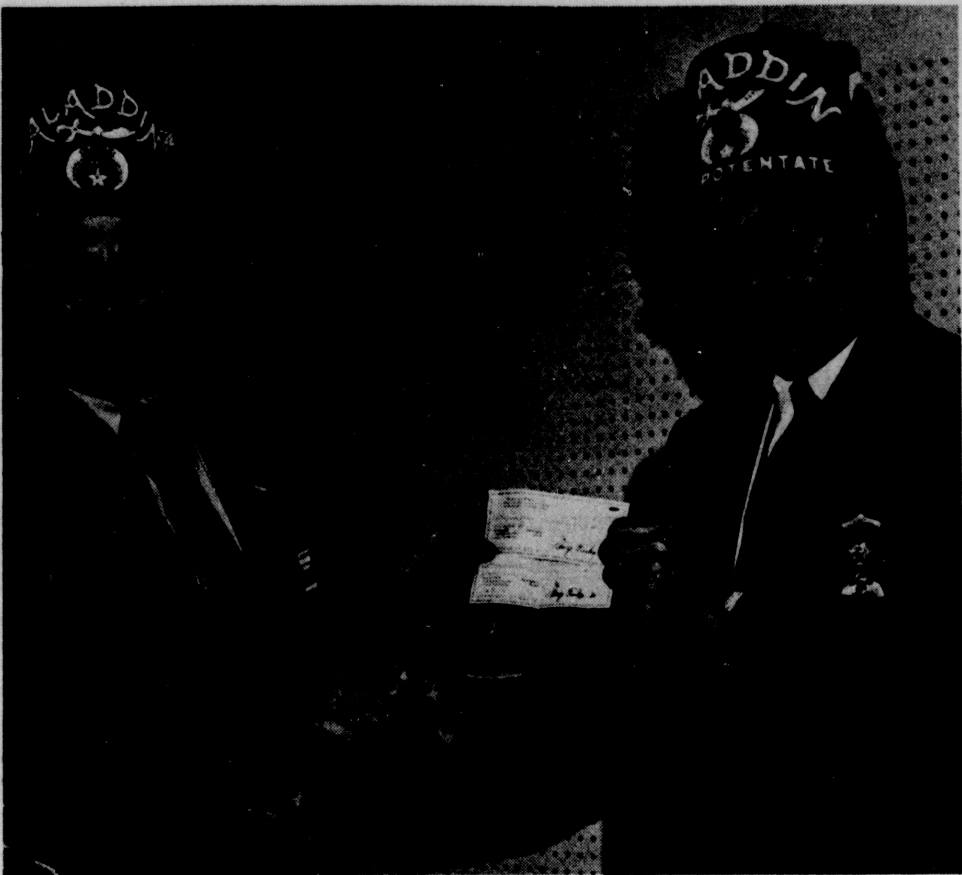

Police Specialists Larry Hott and Walker and Sgt. William Crooks, of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, are continuing their investigation into the case today.

THE WASHINGTON C.H. Police Department discovered the Revco drug store burglary at about 4:45 a.m. Thursday following a report of a suspicious person in the area.

Burglars gained entry by cutting a hole in the roof of the building, then lowered themselves into the drug store through a ventilating system, Scott said. The chief said it appeared as if at least one burglar fell through a portion of the false ceiling.

Chief Deputy Robert McArthur of the Fayette County Sheriff's Department, said the Fenton-Oliver Sales and Service store had been entered through the rear door.

Scott said police officers have not been able to determine if any of the five suspects were responsible for a burglary at the Super X drug store on Clinton Avenue Sunday night.

SHRINE PRESENT CHECKS — Past president Bob McArthur (left) of the Washington C.H. Shrine Club presented two checks in the total amount of $1,000 to past potentate Charles Dinwiddie Thursday, which will go to the Cincinnati Burns Institute and the Aladdin Temple's Crippled Children's Association.

Ohio State grid star speaks to Shrine Club

Over 93 members and guests of the Washington C.H. Shrine Club were present Thursday in the Mahan Building to hear Harold (Champ) Henson speak on his past experiences with the Ohio State University football squad and his future plans with the Minnesota Vikings of the National Football League.

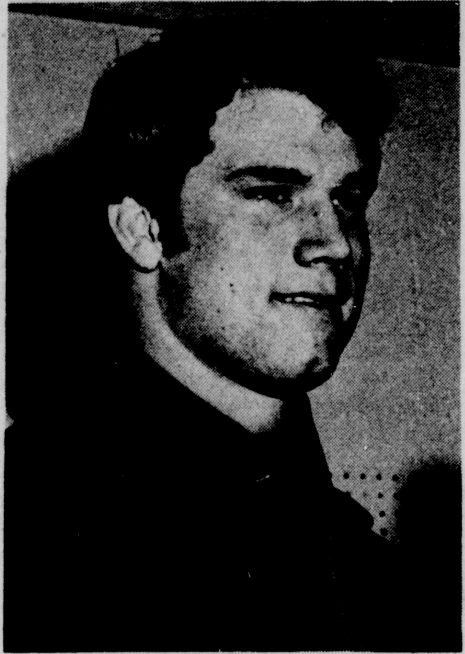

Henson was recently drafted in the fourth round by the National Football Conference champions after deciding to quit the Buckeye team with one year of college eligibility remaining. The 240-pound fullback, who was the nation's leading scorer with 20 touchdowns in 1972, told the local Shriners that although he and Ohio State head coach Woody Hayes had their differences, he highly praised Hayes' coaching and respected him for his strict discipline.

The native of Pickaway County said that although he was shy 30 hours of graduating with a major in criminology, he planned to finish his schooling but hoped to stay in professional football.

Henson was introduced to the club members by John Morris and was accompanied by another Ohio State football player, Garth Cox, of Washington C.H.

During the regular business meeting, past president Bob McArthur presented the club with the roving membership trophy from the Aladdin Temple in Columbus for recruiting the largest number of new members in 1974. The Washington C.H. Shrine Club boosted its membership by 85 new recruits in 1974.

McArthur also presented two checks for the sum of $1,000 to past potentate Charles Dinwiddie to go toward the Cincinnati Burns Institute and the Aladdin Temple's Crippled Children's Association. McArthur was then given a plaque by Aladdin Temple representative Robert Hill for exceeding the membership quota in 1974 while he served as president.

HAROLD HENSON

Hill also relayed best wishes to the present potentate Donald R. Waters and Dinwiddie extended his praise to the local club for its successful Shrine ceremonial held in 1974.

First vice president Rex Bloomer, acting in the absence of president John Bath, adjourned the meeting by announcing the annual ladies night party and visitation of the potentate has been postponed from Feb. 14 until May 14 due to the natural gas shortage at the Mahan Building.

Congress eyes own energy plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Democrats, responding to President Ford's chiding that they shouldn't criticize his energy conservation plan until they have an alternative, are moving to develop their own energy program.

Speaker Carl Albert has directed a task force to devise a single energy plan which the Democratic majority can push quickly.

Albert earlier this week won pledges from all committee chairmen to work with the task force and to set specific timetables for action on emergency economic relief measures already before them.

Albert's steps represent the Democrats' recognition that Ford could keep the initiative in fighting the energy-economic crisis unless the Democrats take steps to adopt their own program.

Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., chairman of the task force, said the action also represents an awareness that Congress has to become more effective and that there should be a curb on the proliferation of proposals that are never acted on and efforts that are duplicated.

Wright conceded that the Democratic leadership's economic proposals announced three weeks ago were "some-what fuzzy" because of a scarcity of time to develop any one proposal satisfactorily and because of the plan to allow various committees to provide the details.

He said the energy plan will be more detailed, will contain cost estimates and will be ready within a month.

Ford told a group of economics writers earlier this week that critics of his energy conservation program should not "say it's a plan that won't work until you come up with something that's comparable. And when you do, then we'll talk about compromise."

Congressional Democrats expect the House to vote next week on a delay in Ford's hike on oil import tariffs. They oppose the tariff increase but thus far have failed to unite behind an alternative.

Wright said He said the task force is soliciting energy proposals not only from chairmen of pertinent com-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 2.5 million holders of Veterans Administration life insurance policies will get their 1975 dividend checks within 45 days in a government effort to pump cash quickly into the recession-plagued economy.

Announcing this Thursday, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said participants in the three affected insurance plans customarily have received their dividends on the anniversary dates of their policies.

But he said of the early payments, "The President feels that this action will distribute a substantial amount of cash at a time when it is needed to give a boost to consumer spending."

Nessen said the dividends total $335.6 million, but that only $177.8 million will actually be distributed in checks.

We wish to sincerely thank every friend, relative, and neighbor who expressed warm thoughtfulness at the loss of our loved one. A special note of appreciation to the Morrow-Huffman Funeral Home.

Railroad sues union over short walkout

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. filed a $2 million damage suit Wednesday against three railroad workers' unions involved in a brief strike earlier this week.

The suit names as defendants: Lodge 611 of the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen and its chairman, Walter H. Anthony; Lodge 293 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; and Lodge 845 of the International Brotherhood of Firemen, Oilers, Helpers, Roundhouse and Railway Shop Laborers, and its chairman, Ava Pack.

The suit charges that the unions violated the National Railway Labor Act and claims the pickets and that work stoppage damaged the railroad.

Solid gubernatorial comfort

It is well established that being a governor may on occasion produce an aching head. That is a natural consequence of the manifold pressures of running a state government.

Until the other day it had not occurred to us that gubernatorial duties may also cause aching feet. Yet there was the incontrovertible evidence in a picture of Connecticut's Gov. Ella T. Grasso seated in stocking feet on an executive couch. With shoes neatly tucked alongside the couch, Governor Grasso appeared relaxed and attentive.

The scene had an appealingly homey, informal aspect. A shoeless governor doubtless inspires a frank openness in visitors who might otherwise feel some constraint.

Independence in Emporia

I came to Emporia, Kan., to take part in proceedings, part ceremony, part seminar, held in honor of William Allen White and his son Bill, who provided an unbroken family editorial supervision of the Emporia Gazette from 1895 to 1973. The affair was staged not by the newspaper but by the William Allen White Foundation of Kansas University. With her belief in arms-length dealing, Kathrine White, "young" Bill's widow, let the foundation, which is not a family proposition, run the show. She merely provided the premises for what was a heartwarming affair.

When Bill died, Mrs. White received nibbles about selling the paper to outside interests. She could have received a pretty penny for it. But no, she said, that was not a White way of doing things. The Whites never cared about money save as a lubricant for solid journalistic service. She would keep the paper in the family.

I was asked to contribute something about young Bill's life as a journalist and book-writer outside of Emporia. So I told about Bill's trip to Soviet Russia with Eric Johnston during World War II. Bill had an unbluffable courage very like his father's. He was grateful for what the Soviets did to stand up to Hitler, but it enraged him when correspondent Larry LeSueur, for example, wrote off the Anglo-American bombing of Germany as "chicken-dung war."

Bill didn't believe in denigrating his own country; he knew that the Stalinist industrial machine would never have beaten Hitler without machine tools that were stamped "made in Bridgeport," "made in Cincinnati," and so on. He said as much in a book, "Report on the Russians." He was among the first to oppose an unreasonable trust in detente.

Whereupon the roof fell in on young Bill White in New York City. Fifteen correspondents, including John Hersey, Quentin Reynolds, Edgar Snow and Ella Winter, denounced him.

I got into the act by writing a piece titled "The Gang-Up on Bill White" for socialist Sol Levitas's anti-Stalinist New Leader. Whereupon the chill enveloped me. The Fellow-Travelling gang snubbed me in the Life magazine office whenever we met. It was not popular in intellectual circles in those days to suggest that Americans and Englishmen had no need to wear hair-shirts about their contribution to the anti-Hitler war.

Bill was bothered by the reaction of his fellow correspondents to his book, but he shook the annoyance off with his customary insouciance. He was his own man.

Coming out here to Emporia, I can see why he always had that inner core of self-possession. Bill knew his way around New York and Washington, D.C., but he was not dependent for a career on the Fellow-Travelling intellectuals who infested Eastern big-time publishing. After all, he had an independent newspaper behind him. He would never have truckled to fashion anyway, but it must have been reassuring to him that he could survive and still write what he pleased.

That had always been the glorious White tradition. When William Allen White started to edit the Emporia Gazette, the Populists were running like a flame through Kansas. Those were the days of Mary Ellen Lease, who urged her embattled farmer friends to stop raising corn and start raising hell. Will White (by calling him Will you can keep him distinct from his son Bill) sympathized with the farmers, but he didn't go for political harikari. So he wrote his stinging editorial, "What's the Matter With Kansas?" "We have an old muckback," he said, "who snorts and howls because there is a bathtub in the State House. We are running that old jay for governor. We have another shabby, wild-eyed, rattle-brained fanatic who has said . . . that 'the rights of the user are paramount to the rights of the owner.' We are running him for chief justice. . . ."

That editorial was reprinted everywhere. It put Populism in its place, but it did not commit Will White to an equal and opposite reactionary cause. He became, of course, a Theodore Roosevelt partisan, and, at a later date, he courageously fought the Ku Klux Klan.

We need this sort of independence today more than ever. It is good to know that the White tradition goes on.

Hot line for dying readied

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A new telephone hot line here for the terminally ill and their families aims to help bury the fearful and lonely "Grim Reaper" view of impending death.

"There is no reason to assume a person can't mature psychologically when dying just as in any other stage of life," said Charles Garfield, a University of California lecturer who teaches a course on death.

On Saturday, Garfield and 14 volunteers — including psychologists, social workers, nurses, medical and nursing students, housewives, a priest and a yoga teacher — are scheduled to open a phone-in service with free follow-up conversation and consultation.

The 24-hour service will be listed under the Hindu word "Shanti" which has about the same meaning as the Biblical "peace that passeth all understanding."

Garfield said he hopes the service can change the death stereotype from "a threatening Grim Reaper figure to an inevitable stage of existence that can often be approached without fear, confusion and denial."

Through the phone-in line, the patient's background and personal outlook will be matched as closely as possible with one of the service staff members, according to volunteer Rachael Clark, a 32-year-old mother of two.

"If the person expresses an interest in Eastern spiritualism, some of our people know about that," she said. "If he's got a more Judeo-Christian orientation, then there are others. We find where the person is at personally and philosophically, then arrange for a visit."

"We're not offering professional services. There are no experts in the field of dying, except those who have died. And they're unfortunately not here to help."

Education chief hits Rhodes plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The incoming president of the state Board of Education, a Republican, says he's indignant over the reported plan of GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes to abolish the 23-member panel.

William H. Cossler of Youngstown, elected president at the board's organizational meeting early this month, denied Rhodes' allegation that the board has been mandating school programs without saying where it will get the money to finance them.

Rhodes said the practice amounted to "taxation without representation."

Cossler told the Akron Beacon Journal, "I can't think of one tax the state Board of Education has passed, or one penny it spent without the approval of the state legislature."

Cossler, a Republican member of the board for the past six years, said he was aghast at the governor's comments.

"I'm puzzled that a knowledgeable person like Gov. Rhodes is making a statement like that," he said.

Rhodes' office said his plans are still not firm, but added that "for too long, now, the State Board of Education has been designing new programs and requiring local taxpayers to finance them."

Familiar faces from the old Rhodes administrations were back shortly after the inauguration putting things back in their places in some of the same offices they left four years ago.

John M. McElroy, Gov. James A. Rhodes' long-time chief adviser, didn't get the same office, but requested his old telephone number back and got it.

"Yes, it's the same number, and it will continue to be, even after they get through monkeying around down here," he told a reporter, adding: "It's the only thing that's familiar around here."

It probably will be several weeks before Rhodes has things arranged the way he wants them, another spokesman said. Rhodes stayed home with a bad chest cold the first week of his new administration.

3 Ohioans die in Indiana crash

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) — Three Ohio residents were killed in a two-car collision Thursday night on old U.S. 35 just east of here.

The sheriff's department identified the victims as Everett L. Duggins, 48; Edith Duggins and Earl Cumston, 78, all of Eaton, Ohio.

Investigators said a car driven by Benjamin Austin III, 19, Rt. 1, Richmond, skidded on a sleet-covered curve and crashed with the car driven by Duggins. Austin and a passenger were hospitalized in satisfactory conditions.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

The doctor is sick, sick, sick

DEAR ABBY: Recently, my son and his wife, Vicki, moved to Bakersfield, Cal. Being in a new area, Vicki looked in the Yellow Pages of her phone book to find an obstetrician to confirm her suspicions of pregnancy. She and my son wanted a baby very much. (Vicki is only 19.) What should have been a happy experience for her turned into a nightmare because of an idiot of a doctor.

He asked her if she was financially prepared to take care of a retarded or deformed baby. Naturally, she asked him if he had reason to believe anything was wrong. He said no, but she was so young and immature he thought he'd ask.

Vicki told the doctor that she wanted her husband with her during the delivery so they could share that beautiful experience together. He said, disgustedly: "There is nothing beautiful about it! It's alot of grunting." (Have you ever heard of such talk from a doctor?) He also said he delivered a headless baby to a woman whose husband was in the room, and the husband nearly died.

Abby, this doctor instilled such fears and doubts in Vicki, I could wring his neck. I don't want this to happen to another expectant mother. Is there someone I can report him to?

READY TO EXPLODE IN VIC-

TORVILLE
DEAR READY: Yes. Contact his County Medical Society and report him to the grievance committee. He shouldn't be allowed to practice. He sounds like a very sick man.

DEAR ABBY: Is nothing sacred? Here I am sitting with my boyfriend watching television, when all of sudden we see a commercial come on for a product that makes me want to crawl under the rug. Good grief! I felt my face getting hot as a poker.

Then, a while later, another commercial came on for a medicine to treat a very embarrassing ailment which is not mentioned in polite company.

Where can I write to complain?

RED-FACED
DEAR RED: Regarding offensive TV commercials, write to the Federal Communications Commission Office, 1919 M Street, Washington, D.C. 20554.

DEAR ABBY: Thanks for printing that letter from the women signed "Restless." She confessed that she had the urge to run away from her family, and wanted to know if other wives experienced that feeling.

I have. Many times I've wanted to run away from my husband, and yes, my children, too, and start life all over again where no one would know me.

I've been married for 28 years, and my children are gone now. I've had a fairly good marriage. By that I mean I've had more good days than bad. No marriage is perfect. My mother always told me: "You can't run away from your troubles, and you can't leave them behind. If you run away, you take your problems with you." She was right.

Tell "restless" if she stayed with her marriage for 25 years, her good days have probably outnumbered her bad days, and that's not a bad average. Tell her not to lose heart. She has lots of company.

"B" IN LONG ISLAND
DEAR "B": You belong to a large sorority. You wouldn't believe the number of married women who wrote to confide that at one time they also had the urge to run away. One man courageously wrote: "Women don't have an exclusive on the urge to run away. I've had it, too, but thank God my sanity returned and good sense prevailed."

the illustrated BIBLE Jesus and the Samaritan Women

Then cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink. — St. John IV: 7

On a journey from Judea into Galilee, Jesus had to pass through Samaria, where he stopped at the city of Sychar, site of Jacob's well. Worn, he sat at the side of the well while his disciples went to buy meat. While there, a woman came to draw water and Jesus asked her for a drink. Curious, she asked why he, a Jew, would ask her for water when the Jews would have no dealings with the Samaritans. Jesus answered that if she knew God and who it was who asked for water, she would be asking HIM for a drink and he would give her living water . . . water which promised everlasting life. Awed, the woman said she heard that the Messiah had come, and she knew that he would reveal all things. Jesus answered: "I that speak unto thee am He."

Moral-religious justice studied

By GEORGE CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Uneasiness has developed among some legal scholars at a modern approach to "the law" that cuts jurisprudence off from its moral-religious roots.

The effect as they see it is a kind of cut-flower legalism, deprived of its nurturing sources and philosophical depth, yet exalted in present times as a substitute "religion" itself.

Church names new minister

The Rev. Richard M. Crabtree has been appointed the new minister at the Jeffersonville Church of Christ.

Rev. Crabtree took over the ministerial duties of the local church after ministering at the First Christian Church in Pinckneyville, Ill. for a year, where he was very active with youth groups.

While in Illinois, Rev. Crabtree served as adult overseer for the Southern Illinois Christian Young People's Association.

The 22-year-old minister attended college at the St. Louis (Mo.) Christian College and presently resides with his wife, the former Ruth Bright of Hillsboro, in Jeffersonville.

Rev. Crabtree said he was very anxious about serving the local church and thought positively that he would be able to see the church grow in his ministry.

"I have ministered in a rural congregation before where there seemed to be no possibility for growth but the church grew because the people loved to work and were willing to put forth the effort for the church," he said.

Agriculture day scheduled Feb. 5

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A resolution adopted in the Ohio Senate this week sets Feb. 5 as "Ohio Agriculture Day."

Sponsored by Sen. Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion, the resolution called agriculture "the foundation upon which our entire economic structure and national well-being is built."

It noted that Ohio has long been a leader in agriculture, "noted for its Concord grapes, fine tomato crop, maple syrup, Poland China hogs, corns and dairy cattle."

Five defendants fined in court

Five persons were fined Thursday in Municipal Court on nontraffic charges. Two area men were fined $100 by Judge Reed M. Winegardner on charges of assault filed on private warrants.

Learnin Noble, 28, Bloomingburg, and Everett Scott Jr., 24, Springfield, were each fined $100 and received suspended 30-day jail sentences pending good behavior.

A second charge of assault against both men was dismissed on a motion by city solicitor Gary D. Smith. John C. Bryan served as attorney for the defendants.

Sheridan Smith, 19, of 111 Water St., was fined $50 after he pleaded not guilty to a charge of menacing and Jack Marcum of Columbus was fined $50 when he pleaded guilty to criminal trespassing.

Acting Municipal Court Judge Otis Hess Jr. fined a Sabina woman $50 on a charge of issuing a bad check.

Eileen Sloan, 20, pleaded guilty to the charge of issuing a bad check for $7.62 to Seaway Inc. She was fined $150 and sentenced to ten days in jail on the charge.

Judge Hess suspended the jail sentence and $100 of the fine provided she make restitution of the bad check.

The boomerang has been known to return to the thrower, even after striking the ground.

New technical college to offer three associate degree programs

Southern State College will be offering three associate degree programs to interest students this September at the newly created two-year general and technical college.

The college was established last April by the Ohio Board of Regents to serve Adams, Brown, Clinton, Fayette and Highland counties and will be located on two campuses in Clinton and Brown counties.

Students successfully completing course instruction may obtain degrees of Associate of Arts, Associate of Applied Business or Associate of Applied Sciences. Programs of general education, technical education and adult continuing education will also be available at both campuses.

THE NORTHERN campus is located at the site of the former Clinton County Air Force Base, Wilmington, which serves as headquarters for the Laurel Oaks Career Development campus of the Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District.

The southern campus is situated at the Tri-County Academic Center at Eastern High School in Brown County. An additional $1.5 million facility with 34,000 square feet of space is expected to be completed on the southern campus by September, 1976.

Requirement for admission to Southern State is a high school diploma or its equivalent, said Dr. Lewis C. Miller, newly-appointed president of the five-county institution.

The school plans to charge an instructional fee of $15 per quarter hour with a maximum of $200 per term, a $10 application fee and general fees of $2

Distillery burglars flee without loot

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Police said several thieves paddled a flatboat up Mill Creek in suburban Cincinnati Wednesday night, beached the craft behind National Distilleries and broke into a truck trailer full of liquor.

The thieves had $1,260 worth of booze piled on their boat when police arrived in response to alarms. The burglars fled on foot, leaving their boat behind.

per quarter hour with a maximum of $30 per term.

Both state and federal financial assistance in the form of grants, college work study programs and loans are made available to students, Miller said. Southern State credits will transfer on the same basis as all other state institutions under the Ohio Board of Regents.

Galion finally wins after 8 overtimes

By GEORGE STRODE
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Galion Northmor and Delaware Buckeye Valley were supposed to play 32 minutes of high school basketball. Instead, they went eight overtimes, the equivalent of three more quarters.

Dana Irwin's free throw with eight seconds left finally gave Northmor a 53-52 decision. That threw the eight-team Mid-Ohio Conference into a six-way tie for the lead.

Around Ohio: It was a tragic weekend for Milford Coach John Hurley. His team lost a five-overtime 67-66 decision to Loveland Friday night and his dad's funeral was Saturday in Portsmouth.

Portsmouth would be the lone Ohio team in a proposed TriState Conference. The other schools are Russell, Greenup County, Boyd County and Ashland in Kentucky and two Huntington schools and Barboursville in West Virginia.

Fremont Ross broke a 14-game losing spell to Findlay dating back to 1968, taking a 77-75 victory in three overtimes. Fremont substitute Dave Fahrbach came off the bench to score 20 points, even though his dad had been buried earlier in the day.

Richmond Jefferson Union has an eight-game winning streak, longest in the Jefferson County school's history. Steubenville snapped Wells' 30-game regular season victory string, 64-63.

Meanwhile, Sebring's home winning spell has reached 51 games.

At New Philadelphia, Phil Tidrick, a pitcher on the baseball team, hurled the basketball the length of the floor for a desperation basket last week that beat Wooster, 54-53.

East Tech has clinched the Cleveland East Senate title and will meet Max Hayes or Lincoln West in the playoff contest Feb. 13.

Vinton North Gallia and Willow Wood Symmes Valley combined for 67 points in the last quarter Friday. That's 8½ points per minute. North Gallia won 94-83.

Mike Conley pitched in 43 points for Mechanicsburg against Riverside.

Lancaster High School's baseball clinic Feb. 15 will include former Ohio University Coach Bob Wren, now a Philadelphia Phillies' minor league instructor, catcher Steve Swisher of the Chicago Cubs and all-star third baseman Mike Schmidt of the Phillies.

"That's the last time I'll sacrifice myself to that big guy," said assistant Eastlake North Coach Jay Dombos after a practice wrestling bout with unbeaten heavyweight Mike Weitzman. Dombos suffered a six-stitch wound and a black eye against Weitzman.

MT freshmen top Indians

Miami Trace outplayed Hillsboro's freshmen in the first three quarters and then hung on for a 43-38 win Thursday night. The game broke a deadlock between the two teams in the standings and boosted Trace's record to 8-3 while dropping the Indians to a 7-4 mark.

Hillsboro outscored the Panthers 13-8 in the final stanza to narrow the margin of victory, and had Miami Trace not been able to hit from the foul line, the Indian's comeback might have been successful. Brent Knisley saved the Panther day by hitting seven of eight foul shots in the final quarter, when the team failed to register a field goal. He had 12 of 16 free throws for the game.

Trace dominated the first half with a fine ball handling display. A team record was set when the Panthers committed only one turnover in the half.

Trace will play two games this week. They travel to Unioto Wednesday and then move to Circleville Thursday. Their season will conclude at home Feb. 10 when they host Washington C. H.

Record-Herald Sports Writer
Girl's athletics has come to a high point at Washington C.H. The girls basketball team, organized two years ago at WSHS, didn't even have enough participants to have a separate reserve team.

This year however, both the varsity and the junior varsity have ample "person-power" and coach Nikki Eyre feels that his year will be a very good season.

"We expect to win a big portion of our games," said Mrs. Eyre, "and we feel that we can win the league championship." The Lionettes already have a good start toward that goal as they have won their first two ballgames from Wilmington and Miami Trace.

Mrs. Eyre, now in her third year at the helm of the girls basketball team, works her players into condition with many running drills. She emphasized that, "We run a lot and scrimmage to keep fresh and to keep from becoming tiresome during the game." Her girls practice five days a week and have

Middle School drops 2 games

Greenfield handed the Washington Middle School a double defeat Thursday downing the eighth grade team 39-28, and topping the seventh grade 36-22.

The Tigers eighth graders jumped to a 10-point lead early in the game and led by 15 at the half. Washington was held to just six points prior to the intermission.

The seventh grade did not fare much better. They scored only six points in the first half and were behind by 11 at the intermission.

Louisville defeats N.M. State, 51-42

By The Associated Press

They played it again for Denny Crum ... but he didn't like the tempo.

"You get sick of seeing that stuff," said the Louisville basketball coach after watching another team stall against his third-ranked Cardinals.

Freezing the ball has become commonplace against Louisville's tough birds this season, but it didn't help New Mexico State Thursday night. The Cardinals put some heat on the Aggies with a zone defense and endured, 51-42.

"We've had the 3-2 zone all year long," said Crum. "It's just that we've seen so many stalls in the last few weeks that we decided to use it. I thought it created a lot of problems for them."

needed confidence and experience on the varsity. We also have better than average height and good speed. I can start any five on the team, the depth is that good. Although the reserves lack the height of the varsity, they certainly make up for it in scrappiness and quickness."

She stated that working with the experienced athletes this year helped immensely at the beginning of the practice sessions as she didn't have to explain every detail to the girls. She said the squad caught on to all the aspects of the game very quickly this year.

Already this season, the Blue Lions females have knocked off Wilmington in a hotly battled game where they had to come from behind to win it by 16 points, and Miami Trace, who seems to be in a rebuilding year after losing all five starters from last year's 8-2 team through graduation.

In conclusion, Mrs. Eyre stated, "We have a very experienced ballclub and expect to win a lot of games this year. The seniors have worked really hard this year and we will be sorry to see them go. But we do have a talented reserve team and we feel that they will compensate the loss next season."

Johnny's girl saw trouble

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)— "The minute Johnny Bench opened his mouth, I knew I was in trouble," recalls the girl who struck out one of baseball's most celebrated bachelors.

A few days before New Year's, Bench, star catcher for the Cincinnati Reds, called Vickie Chesser, a model living in New York, after seeing a photograph of her, for a blind date. Then he called her later when she was with her family in South Carolina.

"If he is as sound, strong and secure as his voice sounds, then I'm in trouble," she remembers thinking about the call.

"At the airport, I wasn't sure the man I saw was Johnny, so I turned around and started the other way, and then came back. He said, 'Is it that bad?'"

Vickie recalls he described himself as "more of a football player than a baseball player."

That meeting has led to the couple's announcement that they will be married in Cincinnati Feb. 21 with about 900 guests attending.

Vickie, who has won eight or more beauty contests and was first runner-up for Miss USA in 1970.

MAC championship filled with losses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The way the trend is developing in the Mid-American basketball champion this year may have a record number of conference losses.

No MAC titleholder ever has dropped more than three league games. That's happened six times.

But already conference leader Miami of Ohio has had two setbacks in six games and still has seven conference dates left, including one at Western Michigan Saturday.

Everybody else in the league has at least three losses.

Only Kent State, last with a 1-6 record, appears out of the title picture. The first six schools are only one game apart in the conference standings.

With at least four more games to play, the 1974-75 South Central Ohio League champions have already been declared. The Circleville Tigers, owners of a thirteen game winning streak, have locked up the league crown with a 9-0 league record. The Tigers could even forfeit their remaining games and still be the champs.

Highland County rivals share the second spot in the SCOL sweepstakes. Greenfield McClain and Hillsboro have identical 5-4 league marks. They are followed by Unioto with a 4-5 mark, Miami Trace and Washington C. H. with 3-5 cards, and Wilmington, hanging onto the basement with a 1-7 reading.

This week in league action, only Unioto takes a rest. Circleville hosts Wilmington, Greenfield travels to Washington C. H., and Miami Trace entertains Hillsboro.

In the Circleville-Wilmington matchup, the Tigers will be seeking their tenth SCOL victory in a row against a team that has won just two games all year. The one bright spot in the Hurricane's favor is the sparkling play of freshman Gary Williams. He started the year with the reserve team, but has since come up to the varsity level and is presently averaging 12.9 points per ballgame.

Circleville still has four of its starters in double figures. Leading the pack is senior co-captain Harold Reed, averaging 17.2 points a game. He is closely followed by teammates George Moore with a 14.2 average and Perry Hoskins and Biff Bumgarner, averaging 11.8 and 10.9 respectively. The Tigers won the opening game of the two-game set earlier this season in a cakewalk, 79-47.

Washington C. H. is searching for their first win in almost two weeks and they will try their luck against Greenfield. McClain took the earlier meeting 73-60 on the new Greenfield court, but the Blue Lions have only lost three games on the WSHS floor in the past two years so it should be quite a battle.

Ambush Hoosiers, Taylor says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Fred Taylor of Ohio State has found a way to hand top-ranked Indiana its first college basketball loss of the season. "Ambush the team bus before it gets to the arena," quipped Taylor.

The Buckeyes, 102-71 victims of the Hoosiers in a Hawaii Christmas tournament, brace for the visiting Indiana express Saturday night.

Obviously, Taylor was impressed with the Hoosiers, now up to 19-0 and league-leading Big Ten 8-0 records. Ohio State is 11-7 and 5-3.

"They're big, deep and play with a great deal of confidence," said Taylor, in the midst of plotting strategy for his former player, Indiana mentor Bobby Knight.

The Hoosiers have opened a three-game bulge in the Big Ten race over Minnesota, Michigan, Purdue and Ohio State, sharing second place at 5-3.

"They are all playing with much more confidence this year," Taylor said of the Indiana players. "(Kent) Benson and (Bob) Wilkerson have shown the greatest improvement."

The size of the Hoosiers—the front line is 6-foot-7 Scott May, 6-7 Steve Green and the 6-11 Benson—is forcing Taylor to alter his lineup.

"We need more size," said Taylor, indicating he would start 6-7 Steve Wenner over 6-5 Andy Stiegemeier at one forward.

scoring with a 17.4 average and currently leads the league in scoring for league games with a 19.5 point mean. He is closely followed by Doug Phillips, who helped his scoring average immensely last week with a 30 point performance against Unioto. He averages 15.9 markers a game.

McClain is led by senior Bill Flynn and junior Steve Harvey, who have the highest scoring averages. Flynn presently pops in 15.1 points every game while Harvey tosses in 14.6 tallies. The Tigers will be hoping for a win to put them in sole possession of second place in the SCOL.

Hillsboro will be on the other side of that coin, hoping for a loss by the Tigers while they win themselves. Their opponents will be Miami Trace at the MTHS gym where the Panthers always hang tough.

Hillsboro is led by Mike Sharkey out of the forward position. He scores 16 points on the average. Another Indian who has consistency with double figures is Tim Fuller who averages 11.8 points per contest.

The Panthers are trying to rebound from two straight losses but will be going against one of the hottest teams in the league. Trace is led by junior Allan Conner and sophomore Dan Gifford. Conner is scoring 11.7 points every game and Gifford adds 11 counters a game.

In Saturday night games, Unioto, led by Greg Alcorn and Jeff Throckmorton, take on a Ross County League rival in the persons of the Adena Warriors. Alcorn averages 17.9 points a game, tops in the league overall, and Throckmorton blasts in 15.9 a game. In addition, Miami Trace plays Columbus Bishop Hartley and Circleville travels to London on Saturday evening.

An Ulcer On the Leg

I've had a sore on my leg for three months. It started as a little scratch and it just won't heal, even though I keep it clean and covered.

Mr. T.M., Minn.

Dear Mr. M.:

The sore you describe is known as an ulcer. (Ulcers can occur in other parts of the body besides the stomach.)

An ulcer, or an open break in the skin, that does not heal almost always is due to some problem with the blood circulation.

An injury, or a burn, may cause the initial break in the skin. When this becomes infected, the size extends and the underlying tissue is affected. Diabetes, varicose veins and tobacco play important roles in keeping these ulcers from healing.

Once the basic reason for your ulcer is found and the cause removed, the ulcer will heal.

With antibiotics, leg exercises and ways to increase the circulation, most ulcers should heal.

Sometimes surgery is necessary to free the surrounding area from infection.

Each year we have a chest X-ray in my company. My lungs are normal, but a fracture of the ribs was found in the last test. I don't remember ever injuring my chest.

Mr. G.F., Tex.

Dear Mr. F.:

It is not unusual for a fracture of the ribs to be found during the course of a routine X-ray of the chest.

Many people may have a chest injury which causes no pain. Consequently, the experience is forgotten.

Under the special circumstances, spontaneous fractures of the ribs do occur, even in the absence of injury. A sudden twisting during sports or at work may be responsible.

When fractures do not involve the lungs, the pleural coverings of the lungs, or the muscle between the ribs, no symptoms may be evident.

Is there any truth to the idea that you can get appendicitis from swallowing a fruit pit?

Miss R.R., S.C.

Dear Miss R.:

There is hardly any validity to this idea. It should not be a cause of concern if one accidentally swallows a fruit pit. It is very rare for a foreign body to lodge in the appendix.

TV Viewing

By JAY SHARBUTT

AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — If you're in the mood for some fairly uplifting viewing tonight, catch a one-hour Smithsonian special called "Flight: The Sky's the Limit," which is on CBS-TV.

If you're up to pondering a grimmer subject — the spread of nuclear energy and its potential for disasters large and small — watch a Sunday NBC special cheerfully entitled, "The Nuclear Threat to You."

CBS' flying show uses the passion for aviation of four Washington, D.C., high school students as a peg on which to hang a once-over-briskly look at the history, fun and tragedy of manned flight.

The kids spend their Saturdays helping restore historic old military and civilian planes at the Smithsonian's restoration works in Silver Hill, Md., the point from which the show takes off.

Much of it explores aviation's past by frequently switching from the youths' staged fantasies about the good old days of flight to newsreels and film footage of the era when planes had funny things called propellers.

Then it goes into a relatively straightforward study of the jet and space ages, pausing now and then for quick looks at ballooning, sport parachuting, gliding and hang-gliding.

NBC's nuclear inspection Sunday is a broadbrush study primarily concerned with three things: —The possibility that terrorist groups could steal a tactical nuclear warhead and figure out how to trigger it.

—The possibility that terrorist groups or small countries could now acquire enough plutonium, a basic ingredient in atomic weaponry, to make their own small bombs and commence nuclear blackmail.

—The possibility of catastrophic failure of nuclear power and research facilities in the U.S. and abroad.

It reaches no definite conclusions on possibilities one and three, but for my dough gets a chilling "highly probable" on count two.

Natural gas slash closes swimming pool

MORaine, Ohio (AP) — The Moraine municipal swimming pool will close Monday for at least two weeks due to the natural gas shortage, a spokesman said.

The large, domed pool is a month past its Dayton Power and Light Co. gas allocation and faces a possible $7,000 penalty for using in excess of its allotted supply, the spokesman said.

Traffic Court

A Good Hope man was fined $100 Thursday in Municipal Court while three other traffic defendants forfeited bonds for failure to appear before Judge Reed M. Winegardner.

Mitchell A. Maxwell, 25, was fined $100 after he changed a plea of no contest to guilty on a charge of reckless operation.

Those forfeiting bonds were Danny L. Lininger, 22, of 1451 Meadow Drive, $25, speeding; Winifred Peille, 72, Sabina, $25, failure to yield the right of way; and Steven M. Hayslip, 23, Mt. Sterling, $25, unassured clear distance ahead.

FAILURE TO STOP — Caused this accident at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Elm Street at 9 p.m. Thursday. City police reported a car driven by Mildred B. ## Two hurt in school bus mishap

A Lake Worth, Fla., woman was injured and her car demolished when she reportedly ran a red light at the intersection of Washington Avenue and Elm Street at 9 p.m. Thursday and collided with a Washington C.H. school bus.

City police charged Mildred B. Swysgood, 56, with failure to obey a traffic device when she crashed into a school bus belonging to the Washington C.H. City School District, driven by Betty L. Dowler, 46, of 320 Ely St.

Mrs. Dowler had just returned from Greenfield with a busload of seventh and eighth grade basketball players, whom she had dropped off at the Washington C.H. Middle School. She had dropped them off and was on her way to get gas at Washington Senior High School when the mishap occurred. The bus was empty except for her.

Police Ptl. Larry Mongold, who was investigating the accident, reported Mrs. Dowler showing visible signs of injury at the scene, but she was not treated. Ms. Swysgood claimed injury and was taken by ambulance to Fayette Memorial Hospital, where she was treated for chest and lower back pain and abrasions of the forehead. She was released.

The Swysgood auto was demolished in the accident and the bus incurred moderate damage.

Police reported three additional accidents and the Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported two mishaps today.

Two minor parking lot accidents occurred at Hidy Foods on Columbus Avenue. Police investigated:

A mishap involving cars driven by Minnie A. Hopson, 38, of 139 Laurel Rd., and Osman D. King, 60, of Washington C.H., at 7:59 p.m. Thursday; and an accident involving a car driven by Holly M. Wills, 17, of 504 Gibbs Ave., and a parked car owned by Karen S. Graham, 26, of Bloomingburg, at 8:08 a.m. Friday.

An accident in the municipal parking lot on S. Fayette Street at 1:50 p.m. Thursday, involved cars driven by Marjorie R. Bowman, 30, of 1652 Mark Rd., and Harold J. Vickers, 52, of New Holland. Damage to the Vickers auto was moderate, police reported.

A car driven by Betty M. Brill, 28, of 7213 Prairie Rd.-NW, backed into a gas pump at the Bi-Lo station located at the intersection of I-71 and U.S. 35 at 6:53 a.m. Friday, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported.

They estimated pump damage as moderate and car damage as minor. Sheriff's deputies are also investigating a hit-skip accident in which an unidentified vehicle struck the east side of the Sports Center building, CCC-Highway-W, sometime Wednesday and then left the scene.

Police probe larceny case

A larceny was reported by Washington C. H. police today, while the Fayette County Sheriff's Department listed a trash dumping offense and a dog and cat bite incident in their reports today.

A battery was stolen from a car owned by Mrs. Walter Patton, sometime during the past two weeks, while the auto had been parked behind her 411½ East St. residence.

Police estimated the loss at $40. Trash, consisting mostly of tree debris, was dumped on Mark Road in Union Township, sometime Wednesday, Fayette County Sheriff's deputies reported.

Cheryl L. Roberts, 14, of Good Hope, was bitten by a dog Thursday, sheriff's deputies reported. She was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Marjorie E. Crider, of Atlanta, was bitten on the right hand by a cat she was attempting to protect from a dog which was chasing it. She was treated and released at Fayette Memorial Hospital.

Brief ruled too long

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court Thursday refused to accept a brief from the Akron attorneys of a convicted police killer, claiming it was too long.

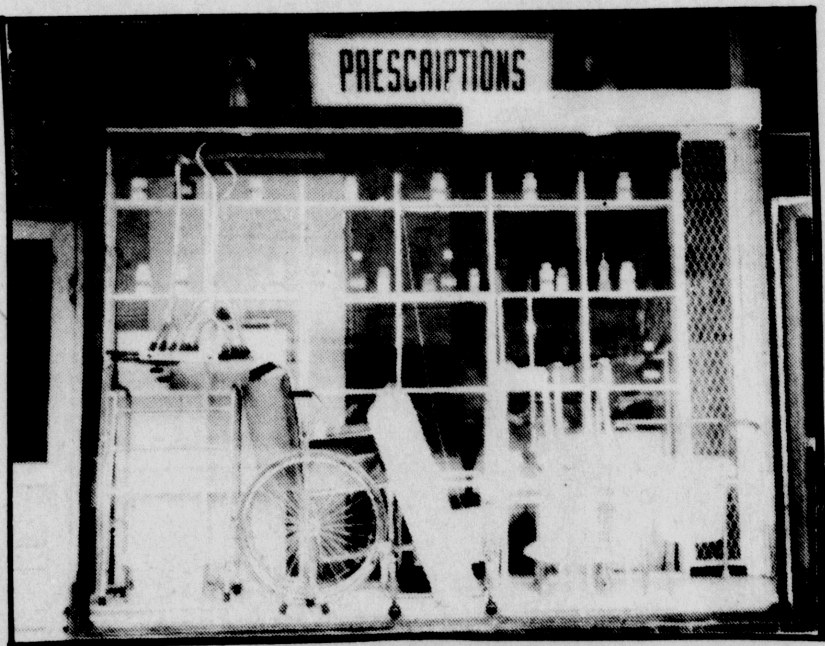

The court gave attorneys for Charles Jennings of Akron 10 days to file a new brief meeting court requirements for "accuracy, brevity and clarity."

Jennings wants a review of his 1965 conviction for the slaying of Akron patrolman Eugene Hooper and the wounding of another officer.

The court said the 94-page brief submitted by Jennings' attorneys would have been needed only if it was hearing the merits of the case.
